SEEK TO APPLY FEDERAL LAWS TO TRUST COMPANIES; ST. LOUIS MEN IN MOVEMEN

Agitation at Bankers' Association Meeting to Have National Banking Laws Extended-Shaw, Vanderlip and Ridgley See Pressing Need for New Financial Legislation to Make Currency Scheme More Elastic, and Prevent Possible Disaster-Increase of Gold Supply at Present Acts as a Safeguard.

HENRY P. HILLIARD CANDIDATE FOR EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Representatives of St. Louis, as well as those of trust compenies of other large cities, are starting a movement here, while the American Bankers' Association is in season, which involves Federal legislation that would nationalize trust companies. The proposition is to provide the same Federal supervision, the same Federal support for trust companies that is now provided to the national banks.

Festus J. Wade of St. Louis, president of the Mercantile Trust Company, expressed himself quite positively to-day in favor of such a law. There exists a widespread sentiment in its favor among all the officers of the larger trust companies. They say that they are ready and cager to maintain the same cash reserves that are maintained by the national banks.

Many of them do so now, irrespective of the fact that no law compels such a course. The opinion is that an act of the kind would operate both to the advantage of the legitlmate trust company, and to the disadvantage of mushroom concerns that use the cover of the name. The main purpose is that when the word 'National' shall appear in a trust company's title it shall carry ail the significance that the REPUBLIC SPECIAL purpose is that when the word National shall appear in a trust company's title it shall carry all the significance that the word carries in reference to a bank. ord carries in reference to a tank.

NEW LEGISLATION NEW ESSARY.

There prevailed in the important speech, before the convention here to-day the ntiment that financial legislation is sentiment that insulated bankers applicated necessary.

Thirty-three hundred bankers applicated Secdetary Shaw to the ceno when he finished a lengthy address, the burden of which was a panorama of the prosperity of the country contrasted with a monetary system which is inflexible and liable thereby to bring disaster at any crucial time. time.

Frank O. Vanderlip of the City National Bank of New York, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, saw the same prosperity, and he also saw dangers ahead. Secretary Shaw suggested a remedy, a heavily taxed national bank-note currency which would be drawn forth at times of unusual demand for money, and by reason of tax be retired immediately upon changed conditions.

GOLD INCREASE PATENT.

The case with which the financial world withstood the strain of a war which cost the combatant nations two billions of dollars, Mr. Vanderlip said, he believed was due to the increased production of gold in recent years. To this increased production he also gave the credit for the recovery from industrial depression during the last three years.

At the same time he expressed the beside that in this very instance there was a possible future disturbance of values. Sould the parent rate of production continue, he believed the volume of money in the world would be greatly increased proscibly doubtled. While the increase in the supply of money would tend to advance the price of an obligation repayable in money would not advance. Thus, all persons having a fixed income, persons receiving a fixed salary, or wage-earners generally, would be at a disadvantage, for their incomes would not tend to increase as rapidly as the purchasing power of their incomes decreased. GOLD INCREASE PATENT.

"Should a stock market speculation

RIDGLEY DESIRES CHANGE. Mr. Ridgley, Comptroller of the Currency, pointed out the necessity of changed methods in some respects in the Government's supervision of national banks. President Swinney of the association reviewed its growth and development for the year. President Roosevelt was applauded and thanked for his successful efforts in making peace between Japan and Russia.

forts in making peace between Japan and Russia.

The President received the bankers and the ladies accompanying them at the White House. There were music and floral decorations, but no speeches. The President shock the hand of every one of the visitors and extended his warmest greeting.

The programme for the day was too heavy for accomplishment, and the session which began shortly after 19 o'clock and terminated only that the delegates might get luncheon and repair to the White House at 2, left several matters of business to augment the work of to-morrow.

business to augment the wave of the row.

Meetings of delegates from several States for the perfection of State organizations were held. Iowa elected Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines to the Nominating Committee. North Carolina elected J. L. Woodcox of High Point as State vice president. The session to-motrow will include addresses and discussions upon various phases of banking. The bankers were received at the Corcoran Gallery of Art this evening.

In addition to the prizes, each pupil will receive is per cent commission of all sales made.

This offer has been made as a result of the recent introduction by Doctor Helne Marks into the City Council of an ordinance providing for a City Forester, whose duties will include the general supervision of the planting, culture and protection of trees on the city streets and highways.

The league, through its legal acpartment, drafted the ordinance which Doctor Marks introduced, and which is now before the Council Committee on Ways and Means. The committee of the league expects these prizes and the efforts of the pupils to result in the planting of at least 10,00 trees along the streets of the city within the next two years. The committee is at work drafting plans and asking for bids from the nursery companies in and about St. Louis, and preparing a booklet in connection with the Engleman Botanical Club on the kinds of trees to plant in the different sections of the city, and the proper care of the trees when planted.

"We are confident." said Mayo Fesler, secretary of the league, "that this munificent offer and the passage of the ordinance will result in a great revival of interest in the beautifying of our streets by planting shade trees. The committee is working out every detail with great care so that the plans arranged will be in accord with the provisions of the city forester ordinance, introduced by Doctor Marks.
